THE IZAAK WALTON LEAGUE OF AMERICA

WHO WE ARE

The more than 40,000 members and supporters of the Izaak Walton League of America come from all walks of life. Many have a keen interest in fishing, hunting, camping, and other outdoor recreation. Most belong to one of the League's nearly 300 community-based chapters across the country. All share a passion for protecting the outdoors. Since 1922, we have been working at the local, regional, and national levels to advocate sensible solutions to the most pressing challenges facing America's natural resources.

WHAT WE DO

Through our local chapters, state divisions, and national organization, we work to conserve wetlands, clean the air, reduce energy consumption, preserve wilderness areas, protect fish and wildlife habitat, and improve management of our farmlands and forests. Through our publications, workshops, events, Web site, quarterly magazine, and numerous on-the-ground projects across the country, we give citizens the knowledge and tools they need to be responsible stewards of the outdoors. At the state and national levels, our volunteers and staff work together to promote commonsense, practical solutions to critical conservation issues. Regardless of whether we are working in a town hall or in the halls of Congress, our goal is to ensure that America's natural resources are protected, managed, and used in a sustainable manner for generations to come.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

There are many ways you can support the Izaak Walton League. The easiest way is to become a member. You can join a local chapter or support the national organization as a member-at-large. As a member, you will have access to many volunteer opportunities. You will also receive our quarterly magazine, Outdoor America, and other benefits. You can also make a tax-deductible donation to the League. To learn more about joining or donating, visit www.iwla.org and click either the "Join" or "Donate" button in the top menu, or call our toll-free number, (800) IKE-LINE (453-5463).

Through our Web site, you can also sign up for our bimonthly e-newsletter, Conservation Currents, as well as press releases, action alerts, and other electronic communications—all for free. By tapping into these resources, you will stay up to date on the League's activities and learn about more ways you can help us conserve the outdoors.
